LA DOLCE VITA

Restoring Sale e Pepe must have been a daunting task for London's Hamilford Design. The iconic Italian in the heart of Knightsbridge is a staple of the city's dining scene, seeing big names in film and fashion, politics and even royalty take a seat at its tables over the decades. Yet the studio has nailed the brief, bringing a renewed sense of glamour to the interiors. Drawing on Manuela Hamilford's own Italian heritage and a palette of Venetian red and deep azzurro blue, the scheme is layered and chic but still as welcoming as you'd expect for a storied neighbourhood institution.
